

TEXAS STATE SOIL CONSERVATION BOARD

SECOND FLOOR DENMAN BUILDING
TEMPLE

March 25, 1949.

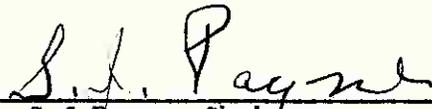

The State Board met in Fort Worth with the State and Regional Personnel of the Soil Conservation Service March 25, 1949. Those present from the State Board Office were S.J. Payne, Chairman, C.M. Caraway, J.P. Martin, Horace K. Fawcett, Members; Chief of Engineering and Planning, Howard H. Goss; Assistant Planning Engineers, Louis B. Dawkins, John A. Sands, John B. Cole and Jack F. Lynch.

From the ^{STATE} ~~Regional~~ Office of the Soil Conservation ^{SERVICE} ~~Office~~ Paul H. Walser, State Soil Conservationist, and Assistant State Conservationists, Roy Gough, Howard Boswell, L.W. Stasney Victor R. Kennedy and from the Regional Office, J.W. Hammett and Red Smith.

Mr. Payne presided and opened the meeting with a statement that the State Board had met with other State Agencies in an endeavor to promote and encourage a closer cooperation in their mutual duties in getting the program of Soil and Water Conservation on the land and that this meeting with the Soil Conservation Service would complete the present series of meetings. He asked that a free and frank discussion by all present of the many problems confronting the State Board and the Soil Conservation Service. Mr. Walser welcomed this opportunity for a better understanding.

Then followed a general discussion of these problems with many practical suggestions for improvement of the attack upon these problems and the improvement of their relations.

The meeting adjourned at eleven o'clock.

S. J. Payne, Chairman

Secretary.