

Here's How CAP Can Benefit Your District Program

The Conservation Activities Program (CAP) administered through the Texas State Soil and Water Conservation Board will reward districts that host and participate in ten core conservation activities that increase the awareness of soil and water conservation. The SWCD Leadership Development Workshop is one qualifying activity. By attending the workshop, a district director or district employee will earn the district $150 to offset operating expenses. When all five directors and an employee of a district have attended a Leadership Development Workshop, the $150 will then be automatically renewed annually. Ten activity areas offer the opportunity for a district to earn the minimum of $1,500 in FY 2020 with a potential for more through a supplemental payment at end of year.

Ten Qualifying Activities

1. Leadership Development Workshop
2. Legislative education activities
3. Entries in Area Awards Program
4. Attendance at an Area Association Meeting
5. Sponsor or co-host a field day
6. Director attendance at Annual State Meeting
7. District attendance at Area Awards program and State Board member election
8. District participation in youth education activities
9. District participation in Soil Stewardship Activities
10. Implementation of a local awards program